Tired of Politicians?

You say you're tired of politicians! Here is some great news – President Trump is not a politician. He's been working to rid the federal government of the perpetual bureaucracy that has spiraled the cost of government out of control.

You've never liked Republicans? President Trump is not a true Republican, which is why many long term Republicans don't like him and have done their best to block his initiatives, such as the SAVE Act.

It is revealing that when cheating is exposed in the election process, when fraud and waste in government spending is uncovered, when tariffs are implemented to bring fairness to the U.S. and could reduce income tax – the President's opponents (including some "establishment" Republicans) have blocked these excellent initiatives. These politicians want to keep things hidden from the American people – things that should have been exposed long ago. And the "news" media continues to help keep these things hidden.

The Dems have voted lock-step against every good thing the President has proposed or done. Some establishment Republicans have joined them to block his initiatives. But some of these career politicians have already lost their seats in the primaries, as our President supported candidates who will help him get the job done.

President Trump is not a politician. He is a patriot working tirelessly to make America great again. And he is a problem solver. Some solutions take longer because of the sad state of affairs he inherited … and because of the opposition he has faced at every turn.

You won't read much about his amazing agenda to undo damage and to move this nation into a strong position – because the global "news" media is aligned with the agenda of those seeking to take him down, opposing all the good things he is working on. The mainstream, legacy "news" media is not to be trusted. The stories they choose to run with, those they choose to squash, the polls they publish to influence – don't trust any of this. Fortunately young, independent journalists are stepping up and are doing their best to shed light on things long hidden.

President Trump is a fighter. He has faced opposition all his life, and he has fought through. Even since entering the political area he has faced assassination attempts, those within seeking to destroy him personally, and opposition from those that he thought were aligned with him. But his present Cabinet and leadership team are amazing.

He is working for you, Americans … doing everything he can to fight the political status quo, and to resist the radical agendas entrenched within Globalist organizations (WHO, WEC), the global "news" media, big pharma, education, large corporate board rooms, the entertainment Industry, professional sports – all those seeking to destroy the American way of life and the American dream.

And all those working to divide us – those calling all who oppose racist, those promoting divisive ideologies like white privilege, woke, reparations, collectivism, DEI, gender confusion. Our young people have been exposed to all of this, with many supporting communistic ideas that would destroy this great nation … and many on medication to help them cope from the hopelessness all of this has created (much to the delight of Big Pharma which has thrived).

In this great nation everyone has the opportunity to educate themselves, better themselves, and secure a part of the American Dream if they are willing to work for it! EVERYONE!

President Trump is 80 years old, about to enter the final 2 years of his time as President. He has no other agenda but to fight for us, and for the U.S. He is intelligent, a proficient negotiator, and he loves America. He knows what we're up against – the downward slide and the division he is working to fix.

Give him your support – he an VP Vance and his entire, amazing leadership team.

Vote Republican to give him the support he needs to get this job done!
